

Application for a Group*/Individual* INTERBUS Conformance Mark Certificate

We hereby request the INTERBUS certification committee to issue a certificate for the device(s) described below to bear the INTERBUS system logo as a certification mark. A sample of the relevant type or types has been tested in the specified laboratory as stated in the enclosed test report, in accordance with INTERBUS guidelines. The fee for each application submitted at INTERBUS are payable before certification/testing. The certification process starts after receipt of payment.

Applicant, address of applicant
Address of the manufacturer of the sample product, if different from the applicant
Brief description of the device, classification according INTERBUS Club Product Index
Type(s), designation(s), name of second source
Field of application, special operational restrictions, etc.
Test report details (test report no., designation of the test laboratory, which carried out the test)
Other documents enclosed

The enclosed test report forms the basis of the application, and we hereby certify that:

- *a) The device presented to the test laboratory was newly manufactured and serves as a standard for the quality of this product.
- *b) The device presented to the test laboratory is a prototype and sets the quality standards for the series product.

We hereby undertake to notify the INTERBUS office of any changes to the design, material or manufacturing process and, if the certificate is withdrawn, to remove the test mark from the products and to bear the costs incurred in the issuing and withdrawal of the certificate.

Because of the services, pieces of information and/or notifications made available, no one is liable for any damages regarding the contractor's equipment or other property of the contractor.

This does not apply for gross breach of duty by INTERBUS to injuries and/or health damages. The same applies for profound breach of contract by the INTERBUS office. In this case the liability is restricted to the order value. The INTERBUS office do not give any guarantees or any warranty regarding the precision and completeness of the information provided. The INTERBUS office accept no liability for mistakes or omissions with respect to the contents of the documents provided by the INTERBUS. As far as legally admissible, the entire documentation and certification of INTERBUS will be made available without explicit, implied or tacit liability for defects or guaranty. No warranty with respect to the applicability of certified products for certain applications can be deduced from the certifications. It rests with the contractor to test for correctness.
